5.3. However, this will only be undertaken where and to the extent it is necessary for a lawful purpose in connection with your employment or other engagement to work for the School.

6. The bases for processing your personal data, how that data is used and whom it is shared with

6.1. Entering into, or fulfilling, our contract with you

We process your personal data because it is necessary for the performance of a contract to which you are a party or in order to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract, such as a contract of employment or other engagement with the School. In this respect, depending on your role and status, the School is likely to use your personal data for the following purposes:

- administering job applications and, where relevant, offering you a role with the School;
- carrying out due diligence checks on you, whether during the application process for a role or during your engagement with the School, including by checking references in relation to your education and your employment history and obtaining any required self-declarations;

- for internal record-keeping, including the management of any staff feedback or complaints and incident reporting; and
- for any other reason or purpose set out in your employment or other contract with the School.

6.2. Legitimate interests

We process your personal data because it is necessary for the School's (or sometimes a third party's) legitimate interests. The School's "legitimate interests" include its interests in running the School in a professional, sustainable manner, in accordance with all relevant ethical, educational, charitable, legal and regulatory duties and requirements (whether or not connected directly to data protection law). In this respect, depending on your role and status, the School is likely to use your personal data for the following:

- providing you with information about the School and what it is like to work for here (where you have asked for this, most obviously before you have made a formal application to work for the School);
- for security purposes, including by operating security cameras in various locations on the School's premises;
- to enable relevant authorities to monitor the School's performance and to intervene or assist with incidents as appropriate;

- publishing your image and likeness in connection with your employment or engagement with us;

- to monitor (as appropriate) use of the School's IT and communications systems in accordance with the School's ICT Acceptable Use Policy and government guidance such as KCSIE (Keeping Children Safe in Education).

6.3. Legal obligations

The School also processes your personal data for its compliance with its legal obligations, notably those in connection with employment, charity law, tax law and accounting, and child welfare. In this respect, depending on your role and status, the School is likely to use your personal data for the following:

- to meet its legal obligations: for example, relating to child welfare (including following the requirements and recommendations of KCSIE), social protection, diversity, equality, and gender pay gap monitoring, employment, immigration / visa sponsorship compliance and health and safety);
- for tax and accounting purposes, including transferring personal data to HM Revenue and Customs to ensure that you have paid appropriate amounts of tax, and in respect of any Gift Aid claims, where relevant;
- for the prevention and detection of crime, and in order to assist with investigations (including criminal investigations) carried out by the police and other competent authorities.

6.4. Special categories of data

Depending on your role and status, the School processes special categories of personal data (such as data concerning health, religious beliefs, racial or ethnic origin, sexual orientation or union membership) or criminal convictions and allegations (treated for these purposes as special category data) for the reasons and purposes set out below.

In particular, the School we process the following types of special category personal data for the following reasons:

- your physical or mental health or condition(s) in order to record sick leave and take decisions about your fitness for work, or (in emergencies) act on any medical needs you may have. This may include Covid-19 (or similar) testing: including managing on-site testing and/or processing the results of tests taken by staff, and sharing this information with relevant health authorities;
- recording your racial or ethnic origin in order to monitor our compliance with equal opportunities legislation;
- trade union membership, in connection with your rights as an employee, agent or contractor and our obligations as an employer or engager of your services;
- categories of your personal data which are relevant to investigating complaints made by you or others, for example concerning discrimination, bullying or harassment, or as part of a complaint made against the School;
- data about any criminal convictions or offences committed by you, for example when conducting criminal background checks with the DBS, or via a self-declaration, or where a matter of public record exists (online or by any media), or where it is necessary to record or report an allegation (including to police or other authorities, with or without reference to you);

The School will process special categories of personal data for lawful reasons only, including because:

- you have given the School your explicit consent to do so, but only in circumstances where seeking consent is appropriate;
- it is necessary to protect your or another person's vital interests, for example, where you have a life-threatening accident or illness in the workplace and your personal data must be processed in order to ensure you receive appropriate medical attention;
- it is necessary for the purposes of carrying out legal obligations and exercising legal rights (both yours and the School's) in connection with your employment or engagement by the School;
- it is necessary in connection with some function in the substantial public interest, including:
 - the safeguarding of children or vulnerable people; or
 - to prevent or detect unlawful acts; or
 - as part of a function designed to protect the public, pupils or parents from seriously improper conduct, malpractice, incompetence or unfitness in a role, or failures in services by the School (or to establish the truth of any such allegations); or
 - to cooperate with a relevant authority, professional or regulatory body, such as the Independent School Inspectorate (ISI), Department for Education (DfE), Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO) or Teaching Regulation Agency (TRA), in such matters;
- to comply with public health requirements (e.g. in respect of Covid-19 (or in similar circumstances)); or
- it is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims, such as where any person has brought a claim or serious complaint against the School or you.

6.5. Low-level concerns about adults

The School will process personal data about you, whether or not it constitutes special category data, in accordance with its policy on recording and sharing low-level concerns about adults (see the School's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy on the policies page of the website here). This will be processed for the same safeguarding and/or employment law reasons as set out above.

Such records are subject to the rules on retention set out in the School's Data Retention Policy, and you have the same rights in respect of that information, as any other personal data that the School holds on you. However, any requests to access, erase or amend personal data held in accordance with this policy may be subject to necessary exemptions, for example if the School considers that compliance with the request might unreasonably impact the privacy rights of others or give rise to a risk of harm to children.

As a general rule, records of low-level concerns will be kept at least until the termination of your employment, but may need to be retained longer e.g. where relevant, individually or cumulatively, to any employment, disciplinary or safeguarding matter. Low-level concerns will not be included in references unless they relate to issues that would normally be included in references, for example, misconduct or poor performance. A low-level concern which relates exclusively to safeguarding (and not to misconduct or poor performance) will not be referred to in a reference.

7. Sharing your information with others

- 7.1. For the purposes referred to in this Privacy Notice and relying on the grounds for processing as set out above, the School may share your personal data with certain third parties. The School may disclose limited personal data (including in limited cases special category or criminal data) to a variety of recipients including:

- other employees, agents and contractors (e.g. third parties processing data on our behalf as part of administering payroll services, the provision of benefits including pensions, IT etc. – although this is not sharing your data in a legal sense, as these are considered data processors on our behalf);
- DBS and other government authorities (e.g. HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC), DfE, Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service (CAFCASS), the police, Home Office, a relevant public health / NHS body and / or local authority) and/or appropriate regulatory bodies e.g. the Teaching Regulation Agency, the Independent Schools Inspectorate, and the Charity Commission etc.;
- external auditors or inspectors;
- the School's advisers where it is necessary to obtain their advice or assistance, including insurers, lawyers, accountants, or other external consultants;
- third parties and their advisers in the unlikely event that those third parties are acquiring or considering acquiring all or part of the School, or the School is reconstituting or setting up some form of joint working or partnership arrangement in the unlikely event that those third parties are acquiring or considering acquiring all or part of the School;
- when the School is legally required to do so (by a court order, government body, law enforcement agency or other authority of competent jurisdiction), for example HMRC or the police.

7.2. The School may also share information about you with other employers in the form of a reference, where considered appropriate, or if required to do so in compliance with legal obligations. References given or received in confidence may not be accessible under your UK GDPR rights.

8. How long your information is kept

- 8.1. Personal data relating to unsuccessful job applicants is deleted after six months from the end of the application process, except where the School has notified you it intends to keep it for longer (and you have not objected).
- 8.2. For staff, subject to any other notices that the School may provide to you, your personal data may be retained for a period of seven years after your contract has expired or been terminated.
- 8.3. However, some information may be retained for longer than this, for example incident reports and safeguarding files, in accordance with specific legal requirements. Please see the School's Data Retention Policy.

9. Your rights

- 9.1. Please see the School Privacy Notice which has details of your rights as a 'data subject', which are the same as if you were any member of the public.
- 9.2. You can find out more about your rights under applicable data protection legislation from the Information Commissioner's Office website available at www.ico.org.uk.

Otherwise, you should contact the Chief Operating Officer on dataprotection@haileybury.com.
- 11.2. If you are not satisfied with how the School is processing your personal data, or how it deals with your complaint, you can make a complaint to the Information Commissioner: www.ico.org.uk. The ICO does recommend you seek to resolve any issues with the data controller initially prior to any referral.
