The Role

The History Department

Haileybury is looking to appoint a Teacher of History to join a vibrant, committed, and professional History department.

History is one of the core subjects in the Lower School (Years 7 to 8) and the Removes (Year 9). The course in Years 7 to 9 closely follows the National Curriculum. Year 7 study Medieval England. Year 8 move from a study of the Reformation to the Mughals. In Year 9 the pupils study the rise of Hitler, culminating in a whole year trip to the Netherlands to investigate the Nazi occupation of the country. The department also regularly runs trips further afield. There is an annual trip to Alabama and Georgia, following the Civil Rights trail, as well as upcoming trips to Italy and Vietnam.

History is an extremely popular option at GCSE level. Pupils follow the Edexcel IGCSE course. On average c. 90 pupils take History as an option in year 10 out of a year group of 130. There is also a strong uptake at A level, with c. 100 students currently taking History in Years 12 and 13, at either A level or within the IB Diploma. The Department offers both a Modern and Early Modern A level course (Edexcel). All GCSE and 6th form teaching takes place in mixed ability classes. These contain approximately 18-20 pupils at GCSE level and c. 10 pupils at A Level/IB Diploma level.

Examination results in the department are consistently very strong, and compare very favourably with other subjects in the School. The department sees great success with the IB Diploma course with an average point score of 6.0 - 6.5 in recent years, at both Higher and Standard level. Both our GCSE and A Level results are among the best in the School.

The department promotes the study of History and related subjects at degree level and prepares pupils for competitive universities such as Oxford and Cambridge. There are extracurricular groups offered for all year groups, with our History Society acting as a platform for Oxbridge preparation. Pupils are encouraged to take part in external prizes and to develop their interests beyond the confines of the specifications.

The department considers that enjoyment of the subjects is just as important as results. A good rapport exists between pupils and staff and is highly valued by both.
